

WEEK'S SPORTING BUDGET

In the Field, On the Water, On the Track and the Ball Field.

THE KING FISH OF NEBRASKA WATERS

The National League Race—Tossing of the Ring—W. B. Hood and Tom and the Local Competition of Athletics.

ROTTING horse savants all agree that J. Malcolm Forbes, the millionaire owner, has at last bred a filly that is destined to prove the equine wonder of the world. The filly is in perfect keeping with her wealthy owner's idea of a great Arabian...

great Arion is her daddy and the peerless Nancy Hanks her mom. Like all Arion's cast, this filly is a prototype of her sire, a perfect bay, excepting a white left hind leg...

The checker players, and there are a number of good ones in Omaha, are all agog over the forthcoming match for the championship of the world...

The variety crew at Yale is working like hired hands these days, preparing itself for the grand test at Henley. It sits one by one from nose to tail...

Martin, the famous foot-racing hero, beat out Yonny Yonkers last year. He has the mile and tenth race over Paris the other day, and in consequence there was great jubilation among the dancing masters...

And now for the next big race—the Brooklyn Handicap. It is not a fortnight away, June 4. Ten or a dozen horses are sure to start a start for the prize...

The proposed Examiner-Journal relay race between San Francisco and New York is being discussed, and the talk of the wheeling world...

The Bee's tip on the great Cincinnati Derby wasn't so bad after all. While the tracks were administering the betting public...

Ben Brush. The Derby conclusively proved one thing in my mind and that is that the stocky son of Bramble isn't as safe for a driver as any one who has ever ridden him. Lof is the peer of any 3-year-old in the world.

It was a hollow victory. Kid McCoy scored over Billy Smith last Monday night after all, but it is extremely problematical whether he could have suffered a defeat. The only thing that kept them from going to a finish...

It must be acknowledged that McCoy is a wonderfully good thing, but it is not time yet for him to shove out his chest and pose as a national champion. There are two men in this class who cut much freer with the followers of the game...

The twenty-round bump between Frank Patricus Slavin and "Alkali" Peter is the biggest match since the coming of the big fight on Thursday night at New York. This is certainly Maher's last chance for a tenure on earth...

There has been so much going on within the square circle on this side that everybody has almost forgotten that it is now the time of the year when the horse is considered Maher's mark. He may get fooled. Wolf what a cataclysm it will be when they come together...

Our crack tennis player, Will A. Larned, has had his debut over the public tomorrow afternoon. He will be in the Irish championship match on the celebrated Fitzwilliam court...

The proposed Examiner-Journal relay race between San Francisco and New York is being discussed, and the talk of the wheeling world...

The Bee's tip on the great Cincinnati Derby wasn't so bad after all. While the tracks were administering the betting public...

from Sacramento to Ogden, Utah. Through the entire state of Nevada they will have to follow the railroad tracks and ride the new wire line...

One of the effects of the bicycle craze on the hunters and fishers has been to prevent the latter from following their usual habits...

The ordinary way of stringing black bass or other fish is to take a four-foot piece of chalk line, tie a crossbar of wood the size of a pencil at either end...

The Council Bluffs Gun club meet will be in the city hall next time they meet. The Omaha team that they meet...

Frank Parmelee and George W. Loomis were both in attendance at the Hazard tournament in Cincinnati last week, and both took in championship honors...

Chris Hansen, the good looking and genial boniface of the hunters and fishers hotel at Oahe, made the sporting editor a friendly call Wednesday night.

Frank Parmelee, the winner of the San Antonio tournament, is going from here to the big shoot at Indian Springs...

AYBE the pennant chase in the National league isn't a hot affair, and maybe my old pals of the bat and ball down in glorious old Cincinnati are not playing the game as they write. Well, I guess yes...

Blotting out St. Louis and Louisville, the other western teams have all exhibited a championship gait. Grandpa Anson has been a good deal better...

The life of a successful pitcher is short, although the greatest have held out for long time. Adolph Terry of Chicago is a fitting example for a twister...

The Hayden Bros. string team will ride their dromedaries down to Gretna this morning, and this afternoon will take the champions of Sarpy county...

you want to do is to bustle them up. The material is there for one of the best amateur teams in the state.

The early-haired young man who plays in left field for the Browns has been deceiving the public for three seasons...

The Falls City team is certainly a crack-jack. But how could it be otherwise—that is the home of Charlie Abbey...

Sandow Meets of the St. Pauls is lamming out for Mister Comsky with refreshing regularity. Sandow is too good a thing to last longer than this season in minor company.

Gordon Clarke is developing into the Chicago runner of the future, and says by the way, he is taking an occasional crack at the ball.

The Rush Medical College team will be here next Friday and Saturday for a couple of "sashays" at the University. The Medical members of the Chicago team...

"Dad" Clarke says the New Yorks are a lot of dope heads, and with the Nonpareils of Omaha behind him he could drive the whole outfit into the swamp...

"Chris Von Der Ahe gave a reception to the German friends to celebrate the opening of his ball park three years ago."

Charles Dryden, the western novelist who is traveling with the Grand American to New York, is in Cleveland...

When Creighton, Neb., plays base ball at Sioux City again, Chicago's umpire will be engaged. The Rev. J. J. Seymour...

The League of American Wheelmen of Omaha is holding its annual meeting to urge the necessity of a law compelling the drivers of heavy wagons...

The prolonged rains of the past two weeks have prevented the club from making a start. The members have lost no opportunity to make the best of it...

The Young Women's Christian Association club has joined them on two or three occasions and has been very much pleased...

incidents which occurred last year while the club was in Missouri Valley and while Creighton had run the season...

Last Thursday evening the Turner Wheel club will run a meet. Omaha will be the band concert. They started out fifty strong...

The appearance of an old (f) fashioned ordinary on the streets in these days is a tickler for the wits of all the small boys...
